

DAVIES OFFICE REFURBISHING BECOMES THE FIRST OFFICE FURNITURE REFURBISHING COMPANY TO EARN PRESTIGIOUS “Best of NeoCon” AWARD.

ALBANY, NEW YORK—Reflecting its long-time leadership position on sustainability and green office practices, Albany, NY- based Davies Office Refurbishing, Inc. earlier this summer became the first office refurbishing company ever to receive a “Best of NeoCon” award, one of the office furniture industry’s most prestigious honors.

The annual NeoCon World’s TradeFair is the largest office furniture trade show in North America, drawing over 50,000 attendees to Chicago each year and featuring more than 1,200 showrooms and exhibitors. An independent panel of over 50 facility management executives, interior designers, and architects reviewed new product entries from exhibitors and selected award winners on the basis of their functionality; flexibility; quality/durability; aesthetics/style; innovation; environmental sustainability; and pricing.

In this year’s contest, Davies won a Silver Award in the Furniture Systems: Enhancements category for its Etho-Strada product, a recycled, remanufactured version of Herman Miller’s popular Ethospace system. Davies remanufactures the system to like-new condition using up to 90 percent recycled content at significant cost savings for users. Davies enhances this legacy system with glass add-ups, ergonomic and technology upgrades.

“Davies Office Refurbishing was providing our customers with innovative ways to extend the useful life of their furniture investment and keep valuable product out of landfills long before sustainability was even a concept of office and facilities management,” commented president Bill Davies. “Our ‘Best of NeoCon’ award this year not only reflects our leadership on green office issues but is a tribute to our staff of over 170 designers, craftsmen, and project managers whose dedication, innovation and professionalism make it all possible” he added.
